

Witness Says Calley Fired on Civilians

By HARRY F. ROSENTHAL
Associated Press Writer

FT. BENNING, Ga. (AP) — A machine gunner in Lt. William L. Calley Jr.'s platoon has testified he saw Calley herd a group of unresisting Vietnamese into a ditch and shoot at them. He said the lieutenant asked him to use his weapon on the unarmed men, women and children.

"I refused," the young, ex-soldier said.

Robert Maples' testimony Tuesday at Calley's court-martial was the first time any witness—of 26 who have appeared—said he saw the lieutenant burn his gun on civilians at My Lai on March 16, 1968.

Maples was to face cross-examination when court resumes today. He had been on the stand a few minutes when the trial recessed Tuesday.

The 27-year-old Calley, charged with killing 102 civilians in the South Vietnamese hamlet, sat unmoving, his eyes never leaving the witness. At times he made notations on a pad, but mostly he sat forward, hands folded, looking straight at Maples.

Maples, 22, of Freehold, N.J. said he and others had moved through the village and had come to a big ditch.

"Calley came over to the ditch," Maples told the court. "He herded the rest of them (Vietnamese) to a hole where him and (Paul) Meadlo was firing into the hole. Meadlo was crying." Asked to describe the people, Maples said: "There were women, babies, and a couple of men."

How did he know Meadlo was crying? "I saw him."

Meadlo, 23, of Zerle Haute, Ind., has publicly admitted killing 35 to 40 people.

It was at the ditch that the government charges Calley shot at least 70 people.

Like previous witnesses, Maples testified the platoon was taken to the western edge of My Lai by helicopter, that the men then flushed villagers from their huts—hootches—pushing them forward through My Lai.

Maples testimony was given in a monotone, sometime barely audible in the 60-seat courtroom.

Maples, now a warehouseman at a storage firm, said he didn't know how many people were in the ditch.

Another member of Calley's 1st Platoon, Rennard Doines, 23, of Fort Worth, Tex., said that after entering the village with guns blazing at livestock and dogs, the men began taking prisoners.

"Most of them were women, children and old men," he said. Doines said he gathered 10 to 15 of the Vietnamese escorted them up the trail, and left them with Calley.

He said he later went back to where he had left the prisoners to see what had happened.

"I went over there and looked and there was a bunch of dead people over there—about 10 or 15 dead people," Doines said.

Offers Bomb Threat Reward

MORRILTON, Ark. (AP) — Conway County Sheriff Marlin Hawkins Tuesday offered a $2,000 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person who made a bomb threat earlier in the day at the Conway County Hospital here.

Hawkins said a man called the hospital about 3:30 p.m. and said a bomb "might explode" at the hospital. A search by officers and hospital employees failed to locate a bomb.

Crossett Man Shot to Death

CROSSETT, Ark. (AP) — William E. Cruise Jr., 28, of North Crossett was shot to death Tuesday at a home about 10 miles north of here.

Ashley County Sheriff Bill Furlow said two men and a woman were being held in the Ashley County Jail in connection with the shooting.

State Officers Are Seeking More Money

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Auditor Jimmie "Red" Jones asked the Arkansas Legislative Council Tuesday for a budget of $265,342 in fiscal 1971-72, $32,000 more than his department receives now, and $275,992 in 1972-73.

Jones also presented a request for an increase of $1,200 in the $2,400 annual public relations appropriation for the speaker of the Arkansas House. The legislature was asked to continue the $4,500 annual appropriation that all constitutional officers except the governor receive for public relations expenses.

State Treasurer Nancy Hall asked that her department's appropriation be increased from the current $243,169 to $275,925 in fiscal 1971-72 and $299,680 in fiscal 1972-73.

The Educational Television Commission asked the legislature for $90,377 in the next fiscal year to install color telecasting equipment at the state educational television station in Conway. The commission's total budget request was for $610,903 in fiscal 1971-72 and $548,998 in 1972-73. The current fiscal year's budget is $446,325.

The State Administration Department seeks appropriations of $1,656,002 in the next fiscal year and $1,712,753 in fiscal 1972-73. The current budget is $1,188,527.

Credibility of Pentagon Haunts Laird

WASHINGTON (AP) — Since taking office nearly two years ago Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird has been particularly sensitive about any doubts cast on the credibility of the Pentagon.

Laird periodically likes to remind newsmen of his efforts "to restore and maintain the credibility of this department." He cites the establishment of daily Pentagon news briefings and the abandonment of background briefings attributable only to unnamed sources in favor of his frequent on-the-record news conferences.

But, despite these efforts, the credibility issue is haunting the Defense Department, just as it did during the years of President Lyndon Johnson's administration.

Three cases stand out in which it appeared the Pentagon was saying one thing and doing another:

The U.S. bombing raids in Cambodia, the denial that U.S. ground combat troops were in Laos, and last week's disclosure of the dramatic commando raid near Hanoi.

When it was disclosed last spring that U.S. planes were hitting North Vietnamese and Viet Cong targets in Cambodia, congressional opponents of the war feared the new action represented deepening U.S. involvement in Southeast Asia.

But the Pentagon insisted the raids were being carried out only to cut off enemy troop concentrations and supply lines which spokesmen said threatened U.S. forces in South Vietnam.

It wasn't until newsmen in Cambodia witnessed U.S. planes flying support for Cambodian ground troops that the Pentagon acknowledged the air strikes were incidentally helping Cambodians.

As for U.S. troops in Laos, it has become common knowledge that some American forces are in that country, but the Pentagon refers to them as advisers and not "ground combat troops."

Laird acknowledged last week the reason he decided to tell of a daring but unsuccessful commando effort to rescue American prisoners of war was to avoid a credibility problem after the North Vietnamese accused the United States of bombing civilian targets in the Hanoi area.

In his initial explanation, Laird said only that Navy planes dropped flares along the North Vietnamese coast to divert the enemy's attention from the commando raid.

It wasn't until after President Nixon let word slip at a Thanksgiving dinner for wounded servicemen that the Pentagon confirmed U.S. fighter-bombers hit targets in the POW camp area.

So, as it has on several occasions throughout the Vietnam war, the Pentagon wound up confirming in part charges made by Hanoi.

Why didn't Laird tell the senators and the public about the air strikes?

"Now, I answer questions, but I only answer the questions that are asked ... and that particular question was not asked," he told a news conference Monday. Otherwise, he added, "I think you'll find that I've been as forthright as one could possibly be in answering all questions."

As NATO's annual four-day winter meeting went into its second day, the leaders of the seven Warsaw Pact nations were gathering in East Berlin, seeking to agree on a common position toward the overtures of the West German government for better relations with Eastern Europe.

The extra effort agreed on by the 10 European allies, to be spread over five years, is only a start, NATO Secretary-General Manlio Brosio told newsmen. But the Europeans felt that the program at least displays a willingness to share some of the extra load being borne by the Americans. They hope it will give the Nixon administration ammunition to use against demands in the U.S. Congress for a reduction in the 295,000 American troops in Europe.

Laird said on his arrival in Brussels Wednesday night that he was not familiar with the entire package, but "we are very pleased our European allies are recognizing the importance of changes as far as the whole question of burden sharing."

The 10-nation program calls for: —Setting up an integrated military communications system and a network of air raid shelters for aircraft. This is to cost at least $420 million, but a snag has arisen because Britain is refusing to contribute cash.

—An increase of $450 million to $500 million in operational and capital expenses by the individual European allies.

—A gift by West Germany to Turkey of 16 new transport planes costing $79 million.

West Germany will bear about half of the total cost of the package, and West German Defense Minister Helmut Schmidt pressed Britain to contribute about $90 million in cash over the next five years for the communications system and the aircraft shelters.

Britain's Lord Carrington refused, since his government is trying to cut costs. He said Britain already bears a relatively heavy share of the military burden and is increasing its contribution to NATO about $366 million over the next 10 years by keeping the aircraft carrier Ark Royal operational and by supplying more fighter squadrons and a new reserve unit.

British refusal to spend more could influence some of the smaller countries to hold up their contributions.

In addition to Britain and West Germany, participants in the package are Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands, Luxembourg, Norway, Denmark, Greece and Turkey.

France takes almost no part in NATO military activities, and Portugal can't participate because it is fighting rebels in its African territories. Iceland makes no direct military contribution to the alliance.

sions throughout the Vietnam war, the Pentagon wound up confirming in part charges made by Hanoi.

Why didn't Laird tell the senators and the public about the air strikes?

"Now, I answer questions, but I only answer the questions that are asked ... and that particular question was not asked," he told a news conference Monday. Otherwise, he added, "I think you'll find that I've been as forthright as one could possibly be in answering all questions."

Regardless, Some Just Born Losers

By WILLIAM L. CHAZE
Associated Press Writer

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Two Emory University psychologists say the person most likely to succeed in life believes he has a measure of control over his own destiny.

Life's losers, on the other hand, tend to feel that luck is the compelling factor and that they can do nothing about it, say the psychologists, Dr. Bonnie Strickland and Steve Nowicki.

They based their conclusions on a year-long study of public school pupils in the Atlanta metropolitan area.

They submitted a list of 40 questions to the pupils and checked the answers against educational achievements. They called the master-of-my-fate types "internals" and the luck-is-all believers "externals."

Those who indicated they were internals, said Dr. Strickland, almost invariably were the better students and most likely to be class president, to belong to scholastic and social organizations and to be regarded as popular.

The passive externals, she said, drifted aimlessly along, believing that luck played a large part in their lives and that they had no control over their fate.

Results of the study, the psychologists said, may have implications for those trying to devise methods of teaching children who resist the learning process.

Nowicki said methods of re-orienting children toward an internal approach might some day be used at the preschool level.

Dr. Strickland said the test, called the Nowicki-Strickland Personal Reaction Survey, might be used to help determine which students are more suitable for college.

Nowicki said the experiments generally show black pupils to be more externally oriented than their white classmates and that the gap widens with age and experience.

That finding, he said, is not surprising. "The lower social-economic classes don't have the money and the opportunities to make changes in the events affecting them," he said.

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — The Economic Development Center at Arkansas AM&N College is designed to advise and help minority businessmen in the Pine Bluff and Southeast Arkansas area, to enable them to compete on a more equitable basis with other businessmen.

The center was organized by the University of Arkansas' Industrial Research and Extension Center in Little Rock under a grant from the federal Economic Development Administration.

The inflation alert criticized gasoline and car price boosts and wage increases in the automobile, airline and construction industries. It said a proposed wage settlement in the railroad industry might contribute to inflation.

The after-the-fact tone of the report raised doubts in many quarters that the administration's tactics will work.

The alert did signal a slight administration move into "jawboning," the use of presidential pressure on wage and price increases.

The council said the government now will aim "more vigorously at expansion" and cautioned that its policy would be hampered by a race between management and labor for higher profits and pay.

"If everyone in his turn gets as big a wage or price increase as the biggest obtained by others during the height of the inflation, the inflation will go on endlessly," the alert said.

with several other men in the car. Police said a red car with French license plates followed Beihl's sedan.

The West German Embassy in Madrid issued a statement saying: "We know a group of people overwhelmed the consul about 10:30 p.m. Tuesday and drove away with his own car with him and another car following. Since then he has vanished."

The embassy said it had received no word "from persons connected with the consul's disappearance." But there was speculation that the ETA, a terrorist group dedicated to achieving independence for the four Basque provinces in north central Spain, abducted Beihl to use him in bargaining for the release of the Basques.

The ETA had said it would retaliate for the trial but did not say how.

The defendants are charged with banditry and terrorism, and 12 of them are expected to be linked with the ETA. The prosecution is expected to ask the death penalty for six of the men. Police said if the ETA kidnapped Beihl, the kidnappers probably would lie low until the trial begins or sentence is passed.

Beihl has lived in Spain for more than 20 years, is married to a Spanish woman and has a 20-year-old daughter.

The Spanish Basques have been fighting for independence for centuries. Numbering about 1.5 million, they make up 5 percent of Spain's population, and officials of the Spanish government claim they are responsible for 95 percent of the nation's political terrorism.

The ETA, from the Basque words for "Basque Land and Liberty," was formed in 1953. Sources in the organization say it has 40 to 50 full-time guerrillas, 500 part-time members and "thousands and thousands of sympathizers."

Winds, Tides Break Up Big Oil Spill

KEY LARGO, Fla. (AP) — Winds and tides today broke up an oil spill that had threatened a unique coral reef and the shoreline of these picturesque islands. Remnants of the oil headed out to sea.

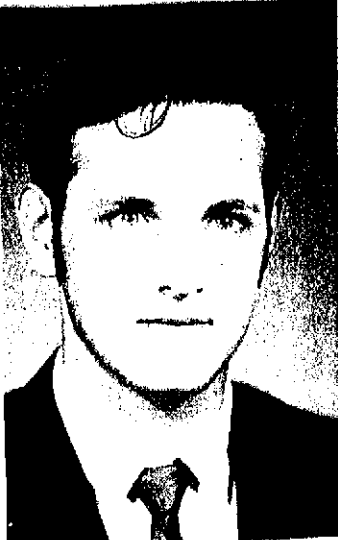

The patchy spill, which at one point spread globs of oil over an area 75 miles long by about half a mile wide, was first spotted Monday afternoon.

A Florida Marine Patrol aircraft pilot followed the slick south from Key Largo and said it seemed to be coming from an Italian tanker, the Gelesiae.

Harmon Shields, state marine resources director, said Tuesday he believed the oil would not damage the reef which parallels the shoreline along the entire 150-mile length of the keys.

Life Blocks Found in Meteorite

WASHINGTON (AP) — Scientists have discovered the building blocks of life in a meteorite that crashed into Earth near Murchison, Australia, on Sept. 28, 1969.

Amino acids were discovered by space agency researchers working at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Ames Research Center in Mountain View, Calif.

"The find is probably the first conclusive proof of extraterrestrial chemical evolution, the chemical processes which precede the origin of life," said Dr. Cyril Ponnamperuma, head of the research team.

The discovery could provide a new time sequence for the origin of life both on Earth and in the Universe.

The amino acids found—16 in all—did not appear to be of biological origin, indicating they evolved chemically.

Chemical evolution theory holds that various types of energy could create ever more complex types of molecules, building to extremely intricate forms that could reproduce themselves.

The amino acids in the Murchison meteorite are believed to have been formed 495 billion years ago, when the Earth was still just part of a gaseous interstellar cloud.

Pope Prays With Some Protestants

By PATRICK O'KEEFE

Associated Press Writer

SYDNEY (AP) — Pope Paul VI prayed with leading Protestant churchmen in Sydney's Town Hall tonight while outside a handful of militant Protestants paraded with such placards as, "The Pope is Anti-christ, a Man of Sin" and "Christ Saves, Rome Enslaves."

The leader of the demonstration, the Rev. Frederick Channing of New Zealand, got inside and stood up in the middle of the hall three minutes after the Pope arrived, displaying the words, "No Priest but Thee, Jesus Christ" across his chest. A woman usher spotted him immediately, and the police threw him out.

Entering the building for the ecumenical service, the Pope passed within 15 yards of some of the placards. But he did not appear to notice them among the crowd of about 10,000 that had gathered to watch his arrival.

About a dozen demonstrators carried placards, while another 20 or so paraded about in front of the hall, in groups of four and five. There were some shouted arguments between Roman Catholics and the demonstrators, but no violence.

Channing, who organized his own Bible Presbyterian Church in New Zealand a year ago, said his protest was directed mainly against the Protestants attending the service with the Pope.

"I said nothing inside the hall, but merely stood silently," he said. "I was not seeking to cause any disturbance."

Although the demonstrators were few in number, it was the first organized hostile manifestation during the papal tour to the Far East.

Most of Sydney's leading Protestant churchmen attended the service to join the Pope in prayer, but there was one notable absentee, Anglican Archbishop Marcus L. Loane. He had announced earlier that there were still too many differences between his Church and Rome for him to join the Pope in worship, but he said this was a personal decision, not a direction to others.

Earlier in his second full day in Australia's largest city, the 73-year-old pontiff visited a children's hospital and an old people's home and celebrated his second open-air Mass within 15 hours at Randwick race track, this one for 150,000 students. His first Mass at the track Tuesday night attracted 200,000 people and was the main public event of his Australian visit.

Showing no sign of strain despite his heavy schedule and the humid 80 degree temperature, the Pope told his young audience their dissatisfaction with and criticism of what "is rightly called the 'permissive society'" was "a ray of light."

"In that society there are unfortunately every day more aggressive acts, new attitudes and behavior patterns which are not Christian," he said.

"When you denounce them and ask that society to eliminate them and replace them with values authentically based on real justice, real sincerity, real moral rectitude, and real brotherhood, you are indeed right."

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

HELP WAS TOO LITTLE, TOO LATE

Dear Helen: Maybe you read it in the paper: "Inhaled Chemical Fatal to Girl, 14." That girl was my daughter.

I did not know she was on drugs. Her friends knew, but didn't tell me. I knew something was wrong. I begged her to go to the doctor. She said I was imagining things.

She only started four weeks before she died. Her boy friend started her. I found this out too late. He's now in jail on a drug charge. I wonder if he misses her, too.

A friend came to stay with my daughter for a few days and told her about a certain chemical that gets you high. They inhaled it in her room, but left the open bottle in the wastebasket. In the night, my daughter got sick and put her head over the wastebasket. She inhaled enough chemical so that she passed out and died.

The boy who signed himself "Someone Who Cares" is right! My daughter needed help, but the kids were all busy "protecting" her and her pusher boy friend.

Please, everybody, wake up! You can't bring my daughter back, but you can keep the next boy or girl from dying if you let people know that help is desperately needed! —A HEARTBROKEN MOTHER

Dear Readers:

Again I repeat: In almost every large town there is a drug help center or clinic where anyone with a problem is welcomed—free—day or night. More and more cities now have crisis lines manned by telephone counselors who can direct troubled people to instant aid. It is NOT finking to ask assistance for a friend, and it is NOT "pushy" when you show someone you care enough to help him. —H.

Dear Helen: I'm a single man in my late 40s, not a lady killer, but my job DOES bring me in contact with many women.

My employer, a married man, fancies himself as the answer to woman's prayer. Whether they're married or not makes no difference to him—he's after whatever he can get, never mind his wife.

I sounded off sometime ago to this windy false alarm, after the old lecher made a play for a fine lady who didn't want to lose her job by putting him down. Now he's out to get me. If I weren't protected by Civil Service, I'd have been fired already. Every day he has another impossible task waiting. What riles him is that the girls prefer me to him, without my trying.

You can't take this kind of hassle to the Personnel Board, so what do I do? —ANDY

Dear Andy:

In Civil Service, you can usually transfer to another department, or take a promotional examination which gets you out from under a vindictive boss's thumb.

One thing for sure: Your office is too small for a "lecherous ladies' man" and a man the ladies prefer. —H.

Dear Helen:

You said "liberated California" schools allow relaxed dress—pants for girls, long hair for boys, even bare feet in colleges. I have news for you. Many Southern California schools and community colleges hold the line, praise be! For example, there are no females in slacks or barefoot students at Harbor Junior College near Los Angeles. Why must you tear down the morale of the schools and urge the young toward disgusting dress habits? —READER

Dear Reader:

Because I prefer comfort to the Dresden Doll look, put on mainly to attract males. Tell me, kids, do "dress-down dolls" pay more attention to their school work? —H.

Kennedy Denies He Danced All Evening

WASHINGTON (AP) — A spokesman for Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., says a British newspaper report that he was out on the town with an Italian princess the night before a memorial service for Gen. Charles de Gaulle is preposterous.

Richard C. Drayne, Kennedy's press assistant, said the account is "a phony." Kennedy was not available for comment.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP) — NBC's "First Tuesday" reported in its latest edition that U.S. Army intelligence used undercover agents and electronic equipment during part of 1968 to gather information on demonstrators and protesters as possible troublemakers.

A team lead by reporter Tom Pettit worked for more than six months gathering material and said military intelligence personnel conducted surveillance of events ranging from the funeral of Martin Luther King Jr. and the Poor People's March through the political conventions and the inauguration of President Nixon.

An assortment of former intelligence agents—some identifiable and others with their identity concealed—spoke on the program. Some said they were instructed to infiltrate student protest movements. Others said they were assigned to eavesdrop on meetings or to count people and the number of miles in the Poor People's March. They said that information was gleaned from telephone conversations and estimated that thousands of dossiers were compiled about suspected troublemakers and government officials, appointed and elected.

The agents' reports were couched in unemotional tones, but NBC men used tougher language.

"The United States Army intelligence spies on the protest movement in the United States," declared host Sander Vanocur. Pettit quoted an unidentified informant as describing military intelligence in 1968 and 1969 as "a national secret police."

The thorough research was evident during the hour devoted to the report but some of its impact was destroyed by editing which at times seemed mocking and by a musical sound track at another point which was sneering.

The program's first hour was primarily turned over to a report on how the University of Notre Dame under the leadership of President Theodore N. Hesburgh has changed radically to meet today's challenge of its students.

Many restrictions have been loosened, more minorities are represented and views of students are listened to by the administration. Best example of change was the football team's break with tradition to play in a bowl game—"The quickest way to get money for scholarships for blacks and Chicanos," said Vanocur.

It was an affirmative treatment that would have benefited by sharper editing.

Cats Bounce Curley Wolves of Prescott

By BILL MOORE
Star Sports Writer

Dominating most of the action last night, the Hope Bobcats bounced the Prescott Curly Wolves, 69-63, in a real bruising battle filled with action.

Hopes record now stands at 2-1 for the season and they travel to Pine Bluff Coleman, Thursday.

Prescott started the scoring with two free shots, before Parker Powell hit a jumpshot with a little over a minute played in the game. Three more points gave the Wolves a 5-2 lead, but Powell and Steve Harris hit the net for a 6-5 lead with 5:42 left in the quarter.

For the next two minutes a see saw battle took place, before Lynn Norton put Hope ahead, 12-10, with 2:46 showing on the clock in the first period. David Briggs and John Dudley finished the Bobcat scoring in the quarter, while Freddie Wren hit four for Prescott, as the game moved into the second period with Hope leading, 19-14.

Prescott immediately started charging the Bobcat lead and 4:19 left in the half, had tied the score at 25 all. Two free throws by Jerry Vanhook gave the Wolves a momentary lead but a minute later Dudley and Powell hit goals to give the Bobcats a narrow 33-32 lead at halftime.

So far, both teams had about the same turnovers and shooting, but Hope came back out with fire and determination.

Within a minute of the start of the quarter, Dudley, Powell, and Briggs had each hit goals and later with 5:01 to go, the Bobcats held a 41-32 lead.

Then, both teams countered each other score for more than two minutes, before Prescott took a time out, trailing 47-40. The quarter ended 51-44, Hope in command.

Height and rebounding proved too much for the Curly Wolves in the final quarter, as Dudley and Briggs unloaded six points each and then let the reserves finish the game.

Dudley led the Bobcats with 30 points, followed by Briggs with 17, Powell hitting 13, and Norton getting five. Livingston led Prescott with 16 points.

Earlier, although fighting to the very end, the Hope Ladycats lost another close one, this one to the Prescott Wolverettes, 53-51, to lower their record to 1-2 for the season.

Hope travels to Ouachita tonight to face Star City in the annual Ouachita Tournament. Gametime is at 8:00 p.m.

Hope struck first on a free throw by Betty Rodden, but then hit a cold streak as Prescott built up a 7-1 lead. With 3:16 to play in the first period, Janet McCain started the Ladycats off again with a two pointer and after Faye Perry hit a charity shot for Prescott, Rodden hit two for Hope to pull the Ladycats closer, although still trailing, 8-5.

Goals by Rodden and Dee Singleton left Hope trailing, 10-9, moving into the second period of play.

Staying close, the Ladycats took the lead with 6:12 showing on the clock after Singleton took a pass under the goal and flipped it in.

However, less than two minutes later Prescott began using Hope turnovers to regain the lead, with six points by Perry and two outside shots by Francis Lavender, the last with only two seconds left. Thus Prescott led at the half, 26-20.

If the second half was to be as good as the first half it would have everyone nervous down to the last whistle. And it was later proved so.

Prescott struck first in the second half, but Hope rebounded with various baskets by Singleton, Rodden, and McCain to knot the score at 32 all with 2:00 left in the third quarter.

Then Hope took the lead momentarily, but with the lead see-sawing so much, Prescott got it back and led by one at the end of the period, 37-36.

Singleton hit four points to help bring Hope back and tie up the score in the last quarter at 43 points each.

However, late fouls hurt the Ladycats, with Prescott making

Palmer Will Try at Coral Springs Open

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Golf Writer

CORAL SPRINGS, Fla. (AP) — Arnold Palmer, still seeking his first individual victory of the year, was a late entrant in the $125,000 Coral Springs Open Golf Tournament.

Palmer had said earlier that he probably would close out his season in last week's Heritage Classic, in which he was the defending champion. But he failed to win—finishing in a tie for third behind Bob Goalby and amateur Lanny Wadkins—and filed an entry for this one, the next-to-last event on the tour schedule this year.

"We'll just see how it goes," the 41-year-old giant of the game said. "I might play next week. It depends on what happens in this one."

It's not secret he wants desperately to keep alive his string of having won at least one event a year since he scored his initial professional victory in the 1955 Canadian Open.

His last triumph was exactly a year ago when he charged past Gay Brewer in the final round of the Danny Thomas-Diplomat Open, no longer on the schedule.

It hasn't been a bad year, by most standards. He's won more than $120,000, finished second three times and been in the top 10 in about 60 per cent of his starts.

But his only victory was a shared one. He teamed with Jack Nicklaus in winning the National Four-Ball Championship. He hasn't won alone, however, and now has only two more chances to keep alive his 15-year string.

He will be one of the favorites for the $25,000 first prize—which could put him into the No. 2 spot on the money winning list—when the 72-hole event starts Thursday on the flat, 6,843-yard, par 35-36—71 Coral Springs Country Club course.

Other top contenders include Lee Trevino and Australian Bruce Devlin, who will be making his first start since winning the rich Alcan Tournament almost two months ago.

Also on hand are $100,000 winners Bruce Crampton, Frank Beard, Dave Hill, Dick Lotz, Larry Hinson, Bob Lunn and Bob Murphy.

Among the missing are Billy Casper and Nicklaus, the top two money winners this season and both through for the year; South African Gary Player; PGA champ Dave Stockton, and England's Tony Jacklin, the U.S. Open titleholder.

Big League Trading Continues

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Two rebuilding clubs have landed Luis Aparicio look-alikes at baseball's winter trade market, but the prototype shortstop belongs to the Boston Red Sox today and they're building a pennant dream on the new property.

The Chicago White Sox, cleaning house after a wretched finish in the American League's Western Division, dealt Aparicio to Boston Tuesday for second baseman Mike Andrews and 21-year-old shortstop Luis Alvarado. Chicago Manager Chuck Tanner promptly likened Alvarado to the 36-year-old Venezuelan bantam he'll try to replace in the White Sox' infield.

Meanwhile, the Baltimore Orioles reluctantly parted with Aparicio's countryman and protégé, 21-year-old shortstop Enzo Hernandez, in a six-player swap that also sent pitcher Tom Phoebus to San Diego's National League expansion team in exchange for pitchers Pat Dobson and Tom Dukes.

In other major league transactions, Atlanta traded infielder Bob Aspromonte to the New York Mets for reliever Ron Herbel and Houston purchased catcher Jack Hiatt from the Chicago Cubs.

"Reports from our scouts compare Alvarado to a young Luis Aparicio," Tanner said after the White Sox swung their third deal of the two-day-old winter meetings.

"I'm not saying Hernandez is another Aparicio, but he reminds me a lot of Luis when he was a kid," said Orioles' skipper Earl Weaver following the world champs' second trade in brisk swapping that promises to mount at the winter meetings before Friday's winup.

While the White Sox and Padres envisioned future returns from their young shortstops and the pitching-rich Orioles looked toward Dobson as another potential 20-game winner, Boston's Eddie Kasko took the short-view and saw a championship flag flying over Fenway Park.

"We feel we can win the pennant with Aparicio," said the Red Sox' skipper, who plans to shift Rico Petrocelli from short to third base to make room for the 155-pound veteran of 15 American League seasons.

"I'm not concerned about his age, not if we win next year. By the time he's through, we'll have someone to take his place. I'm concerned about next year."

Aparicio, a superb shortstop who has led the league in stolen bases nine times, batted a career-high .313 in 146 games last season.

Andrews, 27, batted .253 for the Red Sox, with 17 homers and 65 runs batted in.

"He'll be the take-charge guy in our infielder," said Tanner. "We'll help stabilize Alvarado at short and Carlos May, who we're moving to first from the outfield."

Alvarado, the International League's Most Valuable Player in 1969, began his rookie AL season as Boston's regular third baseman but wound up dividing the year between the Red Sox and their Louisville farm club. He hit .224 in 59 games with Boston.

The Orioles, who traded veteran relief pitcher Moe Drabowsky to St. Louis Monday for utility infielder Jerry Davanon, gave up Phoebus, Hernandez and pitchers Fred Beene and Al Severinsen to get Dobson and Dukes, San Diego's biggest winner and second-busiest reliever, respectively, last season.

Phoebus, pitching sporadically behind Baltimore aces Dave McNally, Mike Cuellar and Jim Palmer last season, compiled a 5-5 record and a 3.07 earned run average. Hernandez batted .266 while Beene was 9-3 and Severinsen, a relief specialist, 4-6 with the Orioles' Rochester farm club in the International League.

Dobson, 14-15 for the Padres with 185 strikeouts and an ERA of 3.76, went to San Diego from Detroit in a deal at last year's meetings. Dukes was 1-6, with 10 saves and a 4.04 ERA in 53 relief in 53 relief appearances.

Weaver said he had talked to Phoebus, a Baltimore native who pitched a no-hitter against Boston two years ago and had spent his entire career in the Orioles' organization, after com-

"We would never have traded Hernandez if we didn't have Mark Belanger, Dave Johnson and Bobby Grich, who all can play shortstop so well," said Harry Dalton, the Orioles' front office boss. Razorback Cagers Lose in Overtime

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas lost to Missouri 80-78 Tuesday night in the Razorbacks' first game under head coach Lanny Van Eman.

The Tigers used the free-throw line to ease ahead of Arkansas in overtime and take the victory. The game was the season opener for both teams.

Missouri substitute Vaughn Colbert hit a jumper with 44 seconds left in regulation play to send the game into overtime.

After trailing 74-72 on a pair of Almer Lee free throws, the Tigers reeled off five straight points on free throws by Mike Jeffries, Jerry Stock and Bill Foster. Arkansas cut the lead to 77-76 with 1:44 to play in overtime on a pair of free throws by Larry Box.

But Jeffries hit a jumper to give Missouri the three-point margin it could command hold on to in its delay game.

The Tigers led all but 44 seconds until John Searles hit two free throws with 3:15 to play in regulation for a 70-68 Arkansas lead. Moments later, Searles, a 6-5 sophomore from Pine Bluff broke free on a layup to give Arkansas a 72-68 advantage.

Foster hit a pair of free throws and Colbert's jumper put the game into overtime.

The Tigers led 37-30 at halftime.

Arkansas' defense was suspect after the Razorbacks lost their season opener to Stanford 34-28, but some personnel changes and the recovery of some members of the front four has changed the picture.

The front four includes tackles Dick Bumpas and Rick Kersey and ends Bruce James and David Reavis. Bumpas and James have already been named to some All-American teams and both started against Texas last year along with Kersey.

Despite giving up 34 points to Stanford, the Razorback defense has lowered its average to less than 11 points a game.

"Those figures really don't mean too much now," he said. "Our season has come down to this final game and it is our challenge to prove how good we really are."

Coffey's defenders will get a close look at Texas' version of the triple option Saturday at Austin, Tex., in the "Big Shoot-out II."

To the winner goes the Southwest Conference championship, a Jan. 1 Cotton Bowl meeting with Notre Dame and a possible national championship.

The loser may be left out in the cold. All bowl spots are filled except a spot in the Orange Bowl that will be filled by LSU if the Tigers defeat Mississippi Saturday night. If the Rebels win, the Arkansas-Texas loser could meet Nebraska on New Year's night in Miami.

Last year, Arkansas "held" a Texas team that was averaging 483 yards a game to 368 yards. Almost 25 per cent of that total came on a 42-yard touchdown run by James Street and a 44-yard fourth-down pass from street to Randy Peschel that set up the Longhorns' 15-14 come-from-behind victory.

This year, Texas is averaging more than 460 yards a game and Coffey said the Longhorns are better offensively than they were in 1969.

"They are running a more varied offense," he said. "They run about three times as many plays."

He says the Arkansas defense, which ranks second in the nation against the rush, cannot afford to concentrate on fullback Steve Worster, halfbacks Jim Bertleson or Billy Dale or quarterback Eddie Phillips.

"It doesn't matter to them who's carrying the ball or what the play is as long as they move those chains," Coffey said. "You get set to jump on Worster and Phillips and they give it to somebody else. You've got to stop three running backs and a quarterback and a good passing attack."

"Phillips does an excellent job of reading the defense and he's an accurate passer," Coffey said. "People don't give him credit for being able to throw the ball, but they can beat you with the pass. Texas will take advantage of any secondary which is playing close to stop the run by faking the run and throwing deep."

Kentucky Gets Past Northwestern

Arlis Gilmore and Austin Carr picked up where they left off on the courts and Adolph Rupp continued to do his thing from the bench as Jacksonville, Notre Dame and Kentucky justified their preseason rankings with victories Tuesday night in the opening of the collegiate basketball season.

Gilmore, the towering 7-foot-2 center for Jacksonville, methodically poured in 50 points, snared 29 rebounds and slapped down 11 enemy shots as the Dolphins, fourth-ranked in The Associated Press preseason poll, mangled visiting Biscayne College 132-88.

Fifth-ranked Notre Dame, trailing an aroused Michigan squad 43-39 at halftime, woke up in the second half and, with Carr canning a game-high 38 points, the Irish overhauled the home-town Wolverines 94-81.

Rupp, the winningest collegiate coach since the hoop was invented, chalked up triumph No. 837 as Kentucky's third-rated Wildcats snapped a 79-79 tie midway in the second half and clawed upset-minded Northwestern 115-100 in Evanston, Ill.

The top two teams, defending champion UCLA and second-rated South Carolina, open their seasons later this week with the Bruins taking on Baylor on Friday and SC facing Auburn Thursday.

The only two other teams in the Top Ten in opening-night action got off on the right foot as eighth-ranked Villanova fought off a second-half rally by host Philadelphia Textile and beat the NCAA college division champs 91-71 and No. 10 Drake smothered visiting Wisconsin State of Platteville 107-73.

The Second Ten provided the night's only clash between nationally ranked teams as Kansas' 14th-ranked Jayhawks took advantage of cold-shooting long Beach State, then shook off a bomb threat to blast the 18th-rated 49ers 69-52.

In other Second Ten action No. 12 Utah State withstood a last-ditch rally by Ohio State for a 95-89 victory, No. 13 Duke used four free throws in the final two minutes to snap a tie and edge Princeton 79-75; No. 15 New Mexico State—third behind UCLA and Jacksonville in the NCAA national tourney last March—bombed the University of Texas-Arlington 107-82; 16th-ranked Indiana rode an early lead to a 99-82 victory over Eastern Michigan and No. 19 North Carolina State slammed in 19 straight second-half points to pound Atlanta Christian College 104-74.

In other major action Indiana State upset Purdue 82-80 for the Sycamores' first victory in their 19-game series with the Boiler-makers and Louisiana State, playing its first game without high-scoring Pete Maravich, got 39 points from Al Sanders to defeat Loyola of New Orleans 109-103.

Army smeared Lehigh 72-47, Auburn turned back Louisiana Tech 93-87, New Mexico nipped Colorado 66-63, Creighton ripped St. Thomas, Minn., 85-64, Ohio whipped West Virginia Wesleyan 81-61, Oregon slammed San

Wichita Gets Pasadena Bowl Money

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — The men who will officiate the Dec. 19 Pasadena Bowl Between Louisville and Long Beach State said Tuesday they will turn fees over to the Wichita State Emergency Fund.

"It is our pleasure to officiate the game with our fee being turned over 100 per cent" to the fund, said Jim Lineberger, spokesman for the 13-man crew from the Pacific-8 Conference Football Officials Association.

"Additionally," he said, "we would like to forego any receipt of complimentary tickets usually provided and instead would like to purchase these tickets to this charitable cause."

The game will be played as a benefit for survivors of players killed in the crash of the Wichita State team's chartered airplane.

Louisville is the champion of the Missouri Valley Conference of which Wichita State is a member.

Gardner Helps Canucks to Victory

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP) — The Philadelphia Flyers dominated the game but not goalie George Gardner as he helped the Vancouver Canucks to a 5-4 National Hockey League victory Tuesday night.

Gardner kicked away 44 of the Flyers' 48 shots to keep Vancouver within a goal of Philadelphia with just over five minutes left in the game, only NTL action of the night.

Wayne Maki, who scored two goals tied the game 4-4 in the final period and Ray Cullen whipped in the winning marker at 15:57. The goals came within 1½ minutes of each other.

The Canucks had taken a 1-0 lead in the first period, but Philadelphia's Jim Johnson banged in two goals within two minutes of each other early in the second to put the Flyers ahead.

Maki tied the score later that period and Gary Doak put Vancouver ahead briefly.

Lew Morrison and Serge Bernier each added a goal to put the Flyers back on top until the late Vancouver surge.

Russell Named Week's Best Defensively

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Linebacker Andy Russell of the Pittsburgh Steelers was named Defensive Player of the Week in the National Football League today—and maybe that will remind him what he did to Leroy Kelly and the Cleveland Browns last week.

Russell, a 29-year-old six-year veteran who as a rookie with Pittsburgh roomed with Cleveland quarterback Bill Nelsen, was one of the keys to a defensive unit that held Kelly to no yards gained rushing in 10 carries last Sunday in a 28-9 upset victory.

That catapulted the Steelers into a three-way tie with the Browns and Cincinnati Bengals for first place in the Central Division of the American Conference and brought Russell the weekly Associated Press award.

Russell lost his memory during the third period, after making two sensational plays, and played the remainder of the game in an amnesic condition.

"I got a little dinged," he explained. "But I don't know how. I couldn't remember anything except the defenses. We were winning 14-9 the last I remember. Suddenly I looked up and said, 'Hey, it's 28-9.'"

Russell had just made two outstanding plays from his right linebacking position with Cleveland in control on its own 42. First he slid off a block and stopped Kelly for no gain on a screen pass, then shot in on Nelsen and threw him for an 11-yard loss.

But then it didn't just happen. "I study the game so I can get the jump," Russell explained. "I like to know exactly what the offense is doing. I feel more aggressive now than I did when I was a rookie."

Nelsen could believe that. But he laughingly brushed aside Russell's memory lapse.

"He's just trying to get some press," said his former roommate. "He's just faking it."

Reddies in Victory Over AM&N 102-87

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Danny Davis scored 33 points Tuesday night to lead Henderson State College to a 102-87 victory over Arkansas AM&N in an Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference basketball game.

Davis was the leading scorer and also led in rebounds with 11. Gerald Lockett was high-point man for AM&N with 30.

In other AIC action Tuesday night, State College of Arkansas defeated Arkansas College 77-65, Southern State drubbed Harding 72-57, Hendrix defeated Ouachita 77-66 and Arkansas A&M defeated Arkansas Tech 91-85.

Bill Barnes pulled down 14 rebounds as Southern State commanded the backboards in defeating Harding. The Mule-riders broke away to a 39-30 halftime lead and did not trail in the second half. Al Flannigan was the leading scorer for Southern State with 19.

A&M hit 79 per cent from the field to defeat Tech. The game was the first loss in five games for Tech. It was the season opener for A&M.

Freshman Jim Hamilton scored 26 points to lead Hendrix to victory over Ouachita. The score was close throughout most of the game. Hendrix led at halftime, 37-32.

State College jumped to an early lead and never trailed Arkansas College. Joe Couch was the leading scorer for SCA with 21. Gary Garner had 18 for Arkansas College.

UALR trailed Ozarks 50-37 at the half and trailed by 18 points early in the second half before rallying behind the shooting of Tom Butler and John Walker.

The Trojans caught Ozarks with two inmates remaining and Dornie Branscum's only field goal of the game broke an 82-82 tie with about one minute left.

Walker led UALR with 25 points and Butler added 20.

Backus Happy at Chance at Welter Title

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Christmas is a day away for evening at The Star Building, Billy Backus but it could be any-212-14 S. Walnut St., Hope, Ark. thing but jolly because it will 71801. P.O. Box 648. Telephone: Area 501; Hope 777-3431.

"It's like Christmas coming to a little kid," Backus says of his chance to fight for the welter-weight championship of the world.

The chance will come Thursday night when he gets into the ring against Jose Napoles, a deadly puncher who has as many knockouts to his credit as Backus has fights.

"Anyone who chooses a career in boxing wants to fight for a championship," Backus said Tuesday in the back room of a bar on East Water Street before going next door to spar in a tiny, dingy loft grandly called the Main Street Gym.

Billy didn't always compare boxing with Christmas.

In 1965 after he was beaten by Rudy Richardson for his third straight loss and seventh against as many victories and a draw, he quit fighting.

Then, one day in 1967, Backus, who hails from nearby Canastota, stopped by a gym run by an uncle, Joey Basilio. Another uncle, Carmen Basilio, is the former welterweight and middle-weight champion of the world and will be in Billy's corner Thursday night.

That stop and talk with uncle Joey got Backus away from his job as a construction worker, back into training and eventually back into the ring.

Since his return to fighting—he holds no other job on the side—Backus has posted a 21-31 record, split four fights with top-ranked Percy Pugh and is ranked as the second leading welterweight contender by the World Boxing Association and Ring Magazine.

And fighting is what Backus intends to do, win or lose against Napoles.

For Napoles, 30, the fight will be the fourth defense of the title he won by knocking out Curtis Cokes in 13 rounds in April 18,

SWC Cagers Break Even in Openers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Southwest Conference basketball teams batted .500 in the opening round of non-conference warfare Tuesday night with defending champion Rice jumping from the chute with a solid 98-81 victory over Abilene Christian.

Other SWC winners were Texas Tech 93, San Diego State 86, Southern Methodist 105, Austin College 76, and Baylor 82, Southwest Texas 72.

The losers included Missouri 80, Arkansas 78 in overtime; Florida State 80, Texas 78; Stephen F. Austin 89, Texas A&M 82; and Kansas State 79, Texas Christian 70.

The only game tonight finds SMU at Georgia Tech.

Tom Myer pumped in 26 points as the Owls riddled ACC at Houston in a rout for Coach Don Knodel's charges.

Gene Knolle was in mid-season form as he shredded the nets for 34 points in pacing Texas Tech to victory before a shouting throng of 8,500 fans in Lubbock. The Red Raiders held only a 43-38 halftime margin over the Aztecs.

Rugged William Chatmon caught fire for 19 of his 23 points in the second half as Baylor overcame a 13-point deficit to trip the rugged Southwest Texas Bobcats before 3,200 fans in Waco. Baylor held a thin 40-37 halftime margin. Sylvester Brown gunned in 25 points for the losers.

Gene Phillips missed his first seven shots then settled down for 25 points as Southern Methodist stamped Austin College. It was the most points scored by a Mustang team since they beat Rice 112-89 in 1968.

The losers had their moments. Texas trailed by 13 points with 13 minutes to go but pulled within a point before falling to Florida State. A bank shot by Texas sophomore Ralph Elliott rimmed the bucket with five seconds to play. Texas junior forward Lynn Howden set a school rebounding record with 24 to best the old mark of 21 set in 1955.

A&M led 60-59 with 11:01 remaining before S. F. Austin ripped off 16 consecutive points. The Aggies led 41-39 at halftime. Harnes Silas had 32 points for the Lumberjacks to pace all scorers while Steve Niles headed the Aggies with 15.

Simpson Degrate of TCU was the leading scorer with 18

Collier Plans Retirement From Browns

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland Browns Coach Blanton Collier said Tuesday that his decision to announce his voluntary retirement at the end of this season was made to take pressure off his struggling football team.

Collier publicly announced his retirement Tuesday after telling his players of his decision after Sunday's 28-9 loss to Pittsburgh. He had told Browns' owner Art Modell and Harold Sauerbrei, the team's general manager, of his decision before the season began.

"I didn't tell them players at the beginning of the season because I wanted the team to win on its own merits," Collier said. "I didn't want them to have the extra burden of perhaps trying to do something for a coach who was retiring."

The Browns have posted only a 5-6 record this season, but are tied for first place with Pittsburgh and Cincinnati in the American Football Conference's Central Division.

"I let them players know about it on Sunday because I felt that it might take some pressure off them," said Collier, who has won 74 games, lost 33 and tied two in eight years as head coach. "I didn't want them to feel that they had to win games for me to save my job."

Collier, who will be 65 in July, said he had seen other coaches forced to retire and "I didn't want my coaches' clothes cut off me."

"I always wanted to be the one to say when I leave," he added.

Collier, only the second head coach in Browns' history, joined Paul Brown in organizing the Browns in the All-American Conference in 1946. He had spent 16 previous years coaching high school teams in Kentucky.

He left the Browns to become head coach at the University of Kentucky in 1954, and compiled a 41-36-3 mark at Kentucky before returning to the Browns as an assistant coach in 1962. He took over the Browns after Brown was fired after the 1962 season.

When you use limit raises, you want to have some method of handling the forcing raise. One way is to bid a suit, then jump in partner's suit. Other ways are to give some jump response an artificial meaning. We use the response of two no-trump by an unpassed hand to a major-suit opening as an artificial bid. It has nothing to do with no-trump but forces to game in partner's major suit.

This throws the normal 13-15-point two no-trump response out the window, but we have found this no loss. When you have 13-15 balanced points, you can do as well by bidding a suit first.

This artificial bid is known as the Jacoby Two No-trump. It is an option in JACOBY MODERN. It is unlimited in strength and the opener bids a new suit to show a singleton or void, whereupon the bidding continues. Any time a player has nothing more to show, he signs off in the agreed suit. All other bids below game are mild slam suggestions.

In today's hand, we see Ed Banks and Terry Radjef of Dallas getting to a fine grand-slam contract by means of this bid. Terry's opening was minimum but he had a singleton and

Enlarged Prostate Dams Normal Flow of Urine

By LAWRENCE E. LAMB, M.D.

Dear Doctor—I have been told that I have a slight enlargement of the prostate and need the operation which is done without an incision. I was told that this operation and recuperation would mean several weeks away from work.

I was wondering if there is any medication, treatment, diet, exercise or daily habits that will help the above condition or is the operation the only way?

Dear Reader—The prostate gland surrounds the urethra, the tube for the outflow of urine, at the outlet of the bladder. As the gland enlarges it compresses the urethral tube and obstructs the normal flow of urine. There are muscles in the bladder and they must contract harder to push urine past the obstruction.

As the condition gets worse it is not possible for the bladder to empty completely. This causes larger and larger amounts of urine to be retained in the bladder. This leads to a feeling to urinate frequently, get up at night, with the bladder still feeling full after urinating.

Sometimes after a man with prostate trouble has passed all the urine he can, a catheter or hollow tube, can be forced past the obstruction into the bladder and several quarts or more of urine drained from the bladder. Prolonged overdistention of the bladder damages it, causing additional problems.

Since the enlarged prostate causes a mechanical obstruction, the only real way the problem can be relieved is by surgical removal. There are several ways this can be done, depending upon the situation. The operation mentioned here is the most likely one; pieces of the enlarged prostate are removed by means of an instrument inserted into the urethral tube through the penis.

The obstruction caused by the enlarged prostate cannot be removed by taking pills, eating special diets or exercises. Problems caused by an enlarged prostate occur in most men who live long enough to develop it. Complete recovery usually takes several weeks.

Dear Doctor—I have been taking two aspirins a day. Will this cause any harm?

Dear Reader—No, not unless you are allergic to aspirin. I don't recommend taking large doses of aspirin unless it is prescribed by a doctor for a specific cause. Two a day is a very small dose. It is true, however, that large doses of aspirin decrease clotting of the blood and may be useful in helping to prevent heart attacks in some cases. Large doses are often used in arthritis and other medical conditions.

Dear Dr. Lamb—Will appetite suppressant pills taken in the fourth month of pregnancy cause the child to lose weight and be nervous? Is any drug advisable to take during pregnancy?

Dear Reader—The baby absorbs only those things in the mother's blood stream. All nutrients, essential vitamins, oxygen and chemicals from drugs filter across the placenta (after it is formed and by simple diffusion earlier) and are absorbed by the baby. Fortunately, the mother's drugs are diluted throughout her body, so the baby doesn't get an adult dose. Even so, the baby is affected by any medicine or drug taken by a mother during her pregnancy. We have much yet to learn about this problem. We do know that mothers using addictive drugs give birth to babies already addicted. As the baby is born, he must be treated for drug addiction.

Latin Bomb Puts Spell on Bonavena

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Special Correspondent
NEW YORK (AP) — Daisy, the Latin American bombshell, has put her magic spell on Oscar Bonavena and predicts that the Argentine heavyweight is a cinch to stop Muhammad Ali in their 15-round fight at the Garden next Monday night.

"I do nothing bad to Ali, I just pass all my good luck along to Ringo," the curvaceous actress, singer and dancer from Puerto Rico said today, using the popular nickname for her longtime friend and movie co-star.

"I put a special string of beads around Ringo's neck, I feed and talk to my saints. Ringo cannot lose."

Daisy Guzman, 25, a flowered pants suit covering her 36-23-37 figure and a matching silk handkerchief knotted about her long, blonde tresses, was on hand to greet her ring hero when Bonavena came in from Grossinger's Tuesday for his formal physical examination.

She was permitted in Bonavena's dressing room where she proceeded to rub the red beads between her hands, drape them over the fighter's neck and then climax the ceremony with a buss on the cheek.

"I did the same thing five years ago in Buenos Aires when I first met him," she said. "He won his fight and has had much good luck since. If he keeps this good luck charm on his person Monday night he will win again."

She said on the night before she had given the beads a special blessing when she placed food and tequilla before her saints.

"I have a whole cabinet of saints," she said. "They will take care of Ringo for me."

Daisy and Bonavena both appear in a Spanish-language movie entitled "Hijos del Vicio" ("Sons of Vice"), which is soon to be released.

AAU Athletes Would Halt Hypocrisy

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A group of top U.S. track and field athletes has presented a list of demands to the Amateur Athletic Union and told it to "stop this hypocrisy and work out a framework where an athlete can live in our society."

Hal Connolly, the Olympic hammer thrower, acted as spokesman for the group Tuesday and read the demands here at the 83rd annual national convention of the AAU. He hinted that a boycott might be used to back up demands.

Among the demands was one that the AAU allow professionals in other sports to compete in track as amateurs.

"We want the very best to compete in the sport to stimulate its growth," Connolly said. "Men like Bob Hayes."

Hayes, former Olympic 100-meter dash champion, is now a wide receiver for the Dallas Cowboys of the National Football League.

The Connolly group also demanded:

—That a foreign athlete be prohibited from competing in U.S. national championships unless his country allows U.S.

CALENDAR OF EVENTS

LIONS' ANNUAL AUCTION
The season of "good will" has come again, and we are busy preparing to spread "it" all over the world. No doubt, most of us have already made our xmas lists, and some have begun to shop for presents for our "friends". Now, there is nothing wrong with our exchanging presents with our friends who are able to exchange presents with us. That is a custom that is as old as baseball. But, I wonder how many of us will remember someone who is not able to give us "back" the value of our present to them?

Well, the Lions have made preparation to conduct their annual xmas auction, at which time, citizens of the area make bids, and buy articles that are on sale. The proceeds go to spread "xmas cheer" to needy families. The success of this project depends upon the type of response given by us, the citizens of the area. We certainly can't say that the Lions are prejudiced in their distribution of the baskets, because all people are recipients of them.

The three-night auction begins tonight at 7 o'clock, and will be held in the lobby of the Citizens bank, and broadcast over KXAR.

Won't you please call in your bids and help the Lions help someone who, otherwise, wouldn't have a merry christmas? You will feel so good about it.

With one more start remaining in her 1970 itinerary, the $100,000 American Trotting Classic at Hollywood Park Dec. 11, Fresh Yankee has 20 wins in 29 starts and $332,815 in purses this season. Her career earnings stand at $829,393.

athletes to compete in its national meets.

—That an athlete be allowed to pursue any occupation, including one where his sports reputation could be capitalized on, without losing his amateur status.

—That several athletes, such as Ralph Boston and Bill Toomey, who have lost their amateur status because of their sports-connected jobs, be reinstated by the AAU.

—That athletes have more say in the selection of coaches and officials for touring U.S. teams.

"It is the athlete who is injecting life into the AAU. We're showing them that we want things changed. Now," Connolly said after making the demands before the Track and Field Committee.

"I can only tell you, there will be an 'or else', Connolly said. "The athletes have been waiting too long."

Testifies to Dummy Invoices for Sheriff

MARION, Ark. (AP) — Charles R. York, president of Farrior's of Little Rock, a clothing firm, testified here Tuesday that he made up dummy invoices to the Crittenden County sheriff's office, then cashed checks drawn on the sheriff and collector's account for the amount of the invoices.

York's statement came in the opening day of testimony in the trial in Circuit Court here of Marion Thomas, who is being tried on two of seven charges of embezzlement against him. The seven charges represent a total of $52,868.97.

York said the money from the cashed checks was turned over to Thomas, who was suspended as Crittenden County sheriff in June after being re-elected sheriff in the Democratic primary.

York also said Southland Racing Corp. at West Memphis paid Farrior's $8,800.10 for uniforms and that he cashed these checks and gave the money to Thomas.

Richard Upton, a former Southland president, and Aubrey Spear, current president, told the court that it had been the company's practice to employ off-duty county deputies at the Southland dog racing track and to furnish uniforms for them.

York said that on May 29, 1967, he made out a dummy $300 invoice for hats, shirts, pants and other items for law enforcement officers to the sheriff's office. The goods, he said, never left Farrior's.

In exchange for the invoice, York said Thomas gave him a $300 check drawn on the sheriff's office account. York said he personally went to Worthen Bank & Trust Co. in Little Rock and endorsed the check in his handwriting, cashed it and gave the money to Thomas.

York testified that the same procedure was followed on April 18, 1968, when he cashed a $528.78 check for Thomas, and in February 1969, when he cashed another check on the sheriff's office account for $575 and gave the proceeds to Thomas.

York also testified that he made up dummy invoices on four occasions to equal amount Thomas owed to Schnieder's, a North Little Rock tailor company.

Charles L. Schnieder, who sold his North Little Rock business in January and retired, testified that Thomas made $2,887.16 in purchases from his firm for which Schnieder was reimbursed by Farrior's.

He testified that among the purchases was a tailor-made suit costing $169.95 that was bought in June 1967 for Quimby Johnson, a State Police criminal investigator formerly stationed at West Memphis and now at Springdale. Johnson testified that he received the suit.

Oil Industry Defends Price Increases

By JEAN HELLER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A major oil industry organization today strongly defended recent crude oil price increases as vital to stimulation of U.S. oil production which has fallen off in recent years while demand has steadily risen.

In a statement submitted to the Office of Emergency Preparedness, the Independent Petroleum Association of America rejected Nixon administration arguments that recent 25-cent-a-barrel crude oil price increases are inflationary.

Continental Oil Co., Gulf Oil Co., Atlantic Richfield and Pan American Petroleum, the producing subsidiary of Standard Oil Co. of Indiana, announced the increases last month.

Three of the four companies also announced wholesale gasoline price increases of seven-tenths of a cent a gallon. Only Continental did not match the gasoline price hike.

The Nixon administration scored the price increases Tuesday in its latest inflation alert. The President's Council of Economic Advisers, saying that the rate of inflation remains higher than expected, said gasoline prices shot up nearly 16 per cent in the week ending Nov. 27 following announcement of the first crude oil price increases.

IPAA, a 5,000-member organization which represents both U.S. oil and gas producers, said that crude oil prices had not been adequate to stimulate exploration for new oil supplies.

Red Leaders in Summit Conference

By GENE KRAMER
Associated Press Writer

BERLIN (AP) — The Communist leaders of the seven Warsaw Pact countries met today in East Berlin for a hastily assembled summit conference to demonstrate solidarity behind Walter Ulbricht's East German regime.

Soviet party general secretary Leonid I. Brezhnev, Premier Alexei N. Kosygin and the leaders of Poland, Czechoslovakia, Romania, Bulgaria and Hungary arrived in damp, cloudy weather Tuesday evening, some braving marginal flying conditions.

Ulbricht, the 77-year-old East German party and government chief, met them all at the airport.

The meeting was expected to last two or three days and to produce a joint declaration calling for recognition of East Germany as a sovereign state and early convening of the all-European security conference the Russians proposed months ago.

Apparently the idea was to announce Communist conditions for an East-West accord in Europe before the end Friday of the current North Atlantic Treaty Organization meeting in Brussels and before two other events:

1. West German Chancellor Willy Brandt's trip to Warsaw next weekend to sign a treaty confirming the present border between Poland and East Germany.

2. The next meeting of the Big Four ambassadors on Berlin Dec. 10.

As the summit meeting began, East German border guards delayed road traffic to and from West Berlin for a fifth day. Trucks at both ends of the main autobahn were held up as much as seven hours. Cars at the Berlin end were delayed up to three hours, but at the West German end the auto delay was about five minutes.

The slowdowns began as a protest against meetings in West Berlin of West Germany's Christian Democratic party, but the meetings ended Tuesday.

Guaranteed access to West Berlin is one of Brandt's conditions for ratification of the new treaties his government has concluded with the Soviet Union and Poland.

Temperatures Reaching Record High

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Warm temperatures reached record heights in Arkansas Tuesday and more of the same is forecast through Thursday.

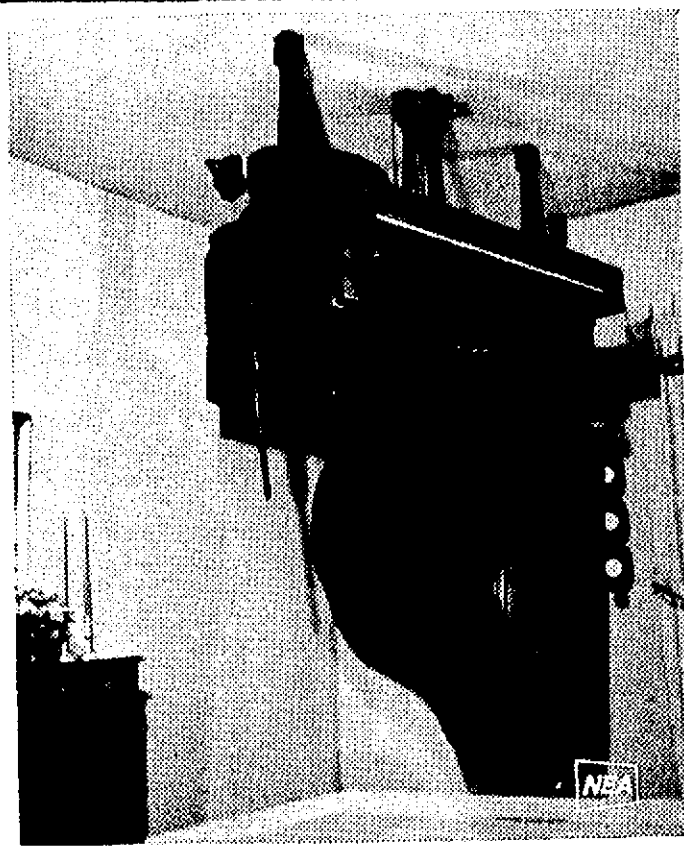

The mercury climbed to 79 at Little Rock Tuesday, the warmest Dec. 1 on record. The record of 78 degrees was set in 1950. Earlier Tuesday, the overnight low of 62 degrees at Little Rock was the warmest recorded on Dec. 1.

Highs today and Thursday are expected to be in the 70s. Lows tonight should be in the 40s north to low 60s south.

Light showers developed in the Bald Knob area early this morning, but no precipitation is forecast through Thursday.

Overnight low temperatures include 37 at Fayetteville, 54 at Jonesboro, 57 at Pine Bluff, 63 at Texarkana, 61 at El Dorado, 49 at Memphis, 54 at Little Rock and 46 at Fort Smith.

No measurable rainfall was reported in the state during the 24-hour period ended at 6 a.m.

STICKING WITH IT, that black cat near the ceiling isn't confused, it's just helping illustrate holding power of a new adhesive. Legs of the baby grand piano are glued to a steel plate that's suspended at ceiling height in a New York studio. Strength of bond made with Eastman 910 adhesive reportedly improves with age: 1,362 psi after 10 minutes and 3,900 psi after 24 hours are typical.

White House Still Shy on Direct Influence on Wage, Price Increases

NATO Allies to Bear More Defense Cost

By BILL NEIKIRK
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite a tougher, more specific inflation alert, the White House still is shying away from using direct presidential influence where it counts—on pending wage and price increases.

In issuing its second alert Tuesday, President Nixon's Council of Economic Advisers limited criticism mostly to past wage and price decisions, indicating it isn't ready to go further.

The council said the focus for combating inflation will be on the government's monetary and fiscal policies and appeals to "increased understanding and voluntary cooperation."

One change in fiscal policy came Tuesday when the maximum interest rate on FHA- and VA-insured home mortgages was reduced from 8½ to 8 per cent.

The higher ceiling had been in effect since Jan. 5. The reduction was part of a package of measures aimed at curbing inflation.

Terrorists Kidnap West German Consul

SAN SEBASTIAN, Spain (AP)

Basque terrorists kidnaped the honorary West German consul in San Sebastian and are holding him hostage for 15 Basque nationalists who go on trial in Burgos Thursday, a French Basque organization reported today.

The Basque Anai-Artea, or Between Brothers Association, in Bayonne, France, said it had received a message from the Spanish-Basque ETA organization that 59-year-old Eugene Beihl is "in its hands."

The message reportedly said Beihl's fate depends on what happens to the 15 Basques at their trial.

Witnesses told police Beihl, who represents several German industrial firms in San Sebastian, drove into his garage Tuesday night, then drove out again.

Israel Sinks Boat, Egypt Raps Action

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Egypt charged today that Israel breached their cease-fire with a "criminal act against unarmed civilians" by sinking an Egyptian boat in the Gulf of Suez. The Israelis claimed the boat was spying and smuggling hashish.

The Israeli military command said an Israeli patrol boat sank the Egyptian motorboat last Saturday night off the Israeli-held eastern shore of the gulf. It said three bodies were recovered, one had documents proving the men were collecting military intelligence, and the fourth man went down with the boat.

Cairo Radio contended that only "unarmed civilian fishing boats operate in this area." The broadcast denied that the army or the intelligence service had boats there.

An Israeli spokesman speculated that the men may have received the hashish they had as payment for intelligence to be collected. He said that such combined Egyptian missions were not uncommon.

He said the patrol boat ordered the Egyptian craft to halt as it approached the Sinai Peninsula shore, but the command was ignored. The Israelis then fired warning shots, the spokesman continued, and the Egyptians tried to escape.

It was the most serious incident since the guns were silenced along the Suez Canal north of the gulf by the cease-fire Aug. 7. Only minor bursts of gunfire have been reported across the canal with no casualties to either side.

King Hussein of Jordan, the third nation that is party to the truce, left on Tuesday for a fund-raising trip to Europe and the United States.

Convicted Raper May Be Retried

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — U.S.

District Judge J. Smith Henley ordered the state attorney general's office Tuesday to show cause within 10 days why he should not resume jurisdiction of the William L. Maxwell case and set aside Maxwell's conviction and death sentence on a rape charge.

Maxwell, 30, a Hot Springs Negro, was convicted and sentenced to death in March 1962 in Circuit Court at Hot Springs on a charge of raping a 35-year-old white woman.

The U.S. Supreme Court ruled June 1 that further proceedings were needed on the question of whether prospective jurors were excluded from service because they expressed scruples against the death penalty.

Air Raids Deliberate Strategy to Increase Pressure on Enemy

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration has expanded its policy on air attacks against North Vietnam in what appears to be a deliberate strategy of increasing pressure on the enemy while continuing U.S. troop withdrawals.

Officials report a toughening attitude by administration leaders toward North Vietnam over the past months. The reasons appear to include frustration over lack of progress in the Paris Peace talks, the prisoner of war issue, and a determination to prevent Hanoi from taking advantage of declining American troop strength in Southeast Asia.

The United States ended bombing of North Vietnam Oct. 31, 1968 and until earlier this year air strikes against the North were explained as retaliation for attacks on unarmed U.S. reconnaissance planes.

In recent months, however, Defense Department spokesmen have expanded the reasons to include "protective reaction" against North Vietnamese rocket batteries firing at planes over neighboring Laos, interdiction of supplies moving down to South Vietnam, Cambodia or Laos and retaliation for terror shelling of South Vietnamese cities.

Furthermore, officials privately confirm the policy of expanding retaliatory strikes when possible to include other targets in the general area to destroy supply buildups.

Officials have also made clear that American combat planes flying protection for bombers operating against enemy positions in Laos can fire at missile bases in North Vietnam when they detect enemy radar locking on the bomber.

Red Unleash Series of Attacks

By ROBERT TUCKMAN

SAIGON (AP) — Communist gunners unleashed a series of shelling attacks up and down South Vietnam Tuesday night, firing rockets and mortars into three air bases, three provincial capitals and two district towns.

It was one of the biggest nights for the enemy gunners in two months. Allied military spokesmen said over-all casualties and damage were light. But an unspecified number of Americans was killed at the big Cam Ranh Bay air base 193 miles northeast of Saigon, and more Americans were wounded at the Phu Cat air base 100 miles up the coast from Cam Ranh Bay.

Enemy rockets also hit Holloway air field in the central highlands, where both U.S. and South Vietnamese personnel are stationed; the provincial capitals of Pleiku City and Ban Me Thuot in the central highlands and Quang Ngai on the central coast, and two district towns in the Mekong Delta.

A South Vietnamese spokesman said there were no casualties or damage at Holloway field, but two Vietnamese civilians were killed and 16 were wounded in the attacks on the cities and towns.

Nearly 100 enemy rocket and mortar attacks have been reported in the past four days, the heaviest such assaults since early October. A U.S. spokesman said the attacks were "deliberate."

Money Freeze Clamped on Flood Control

By JIM ADAMS

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has clamped a temporary freeze on some $107 million for dams, flood control and other waterworks projects contained in what he once called an overstuffed pork-barrel bill from Congress.

The freeze ties up most or all initial construction money for 56 projects across the country, including the controversial Central Arizona Project, and non-construction money for dozens of other projects.

Nixon's Office of Management and Budget said Tuesday the money is being held back only until the President decides in the next few weeks whether to continue the projects at this year's spending level in next year's budget.

The budget office pointed to Nixon's statement when he signed Congress' $5.2 billion public works money bill Oct. 7 that he was considering ways to minimize what he called the "inflationary and unnecessary" impact of 65 new projects the congressmen had added.

Nixon said he was deeply concerned about the bill's impact on future spending. He said the 37 new construction and nonconstruction projects he had asked ultimately would cost $1.3 billion while the 102 Congress approved would cost $4.5 billion.

Nixon said at the time he was considering deferring the projects added by Congress, as well as freezing funds for them. But administration spokesmen stressed Tuesday the President could decide to release all money for the projects after the temporary freeze or make only moderate cutbacks.

The President's budget office said the temporary freeze is an initial construction money Nixon asked for 19 new projects and on all money Congress added to the administration's request, for both new and old projects.

It said this totals about $70 million for Army Corps of Engineers projects, including flood control and navigation channels; $30 million for Bureau of Reclamation power, irrigation and municipal water projects, and $7.4 million for Tennessee Valley Authority projects.

Truck Hits, Damages a Light Pole

Hope City Police investigated two accidents yesterday, one resulting in considerable damage.

On South Fulton Street a chicken truck owned by Grover Thompson and driven by Jack A. Sherman hooked electrical wires and pulled a pole over on a parked car owned by Bobby Allen. Electricity was cut for a time, officers said.

City Patrolman A. C. Sinyard charged Sherman with driving a vehicle with an expired license. At Hazel and Division autos driven by Ivy R. Mitchell and Thomas W. Peck of Emmet collided with considerable damage to both vehicles. Officer Sinyard investigated.

The crash was triggered when a car slowed as it entered the smoke and was struck from behind by another vehicle. The three other cars crashed into the wreckage, police said.

Carl Rhoades, 29, of Lonoke was injured in the accident. The occupants of the other cars escaped unhurt.
